

The company “PITTORI CUCINE”, present in the market for over 40 years, started out, as is typical of the best traditions of craftsmanship in the Marche region, in a small workshop next to the owners’ home.

From the very beginning, the company combined high quality carpentry skills with a high level of technology and in just a short time, driven by passion and increasing dynamism, the company took its place as the fundamental point of reference in terms of handcrafted kitchens, both country-style and in masonry

The company made its presence felt on the national market through the creation of a large number of partnerships with the most prestigious retailers in the field and at the beginning of the new millennium moved into the extensive production site it still occupies today, which includes the showroom and covers an area of over 4,000 square metres.

This is where, everyday, our painstaking blend of tradition and innovation, of old and new, comes to fruition.

And it is this carefully-crafted fusion that “PITTORI CUCINE” is proud to offer to its customers, the best possible furnishing solutions for kitchens with a truly timeless flavour, kitchens that each day provide a satisfyingly intense living experience. Fully aware of how important it is to offer a high-level product that completely fulfils the requirements of even the most meticulous customer, the company takes great care to utilise only the highest quality of raw materials.

Every PITTORI kitchen is therefore rigorously designed to satisfy the following 5 points:

Material: each Pittori kitchen is produced using the highest quality of well-seasoned solid wood. The structures are made from the best blockboard available on the market.

Finish: the paints used in the production of our kitchens are absolutely non-toxic. Pittori Cucine can guarantee a product that respects health, and prides itself on the fact that, alone in its field, all products are lacquered directly in-company, with no out-sourcing involved. Only this method ensures that a product is completely free from harmful components.

Mechanical aspects and drawers: “Pittori Cucine” offers its customers the best hardware designed for the sector. “Blum” full-extension, soft-closing drawers and high-performance “Camar” suspension systems are just two examples of the painstaking care the company takes to achieve absolute quality.

Customisation: every Pittori kitchen is designed to meet all the customer’s requirements. “Tailor-made” is therefore standard, in order to provide complete satisfaction and practicality. Every element can be modified to suit every possible context.

Detail: if it is true that finish, material and mechanics are the skeleton of the kitchen, then the soul lies in the detail. Every single composition contains a host of details worth lingering over. Solid wood drawers, solid chestnut cooker hood beams, extra-dense worktops, all render a Pittori kitchen a real living experience.
